Well my my fellow adventurers, it's that time of year again when the spirits of Edendale Island return from regions beyond, and we've got just the way to celebrate this year's Spookilau! Local Legend has it that on the first new moon after the harvest, the spirits emerge from the ancient ruins to mingle with the living in on a night known as "The Spookilau."

Explorer turned local, Massimo Paguro has embraced this island tradition with open arms and is throwing a spine-tingling soiree for both the living and the dearly departed! His bar, The Luca Lanai, will be the epicenter of this spectral celebration and we've got you the inside scoop! As the clock strikes 8pm tonight, guests are invited to don their most creative costumes, grab a drink, and and join in all of the frightfully fun festivities.

In addition to some new potions being whipped up by the Lanai's legendary cocksmiths and a guest list that's a real who's boo of the Islans Elite, beloved celebrity photographer Annie Webovitz will be taking photos sure to be in next month's Vanity Scare in her studio just behind the Lanai. For guests and ghosts looking to dance the night away DJ XlyoBones will be running the tables until the wee hours of the morning.

So, adventurers, make your way to Luca Lanai this evening for a night you won't soon forget. The only way to uncover the mysteries of this haunting night is to join the revelry and the spirits of Edendale Island await!

SCOREBOARD SAFARI By Issac Bahls the III

Yesterday evening our local favorites, The Roaring Reptars, faced off against the quirky out-of-towners, the Squeamish Squirrels. In a match that promised to be nutty, the Squirrels started the game looking more jittery than a caffeine-addicted chipmunk. The Reptars wasted no time snapping up points, showing off their mighty jaws and powerful tails. It was like a prehistoric dance-off as the Squirrels tried to outrun their longtime rivals. As the game continued, the Squirrels resorted to sneaky tactics and attempted to sabotage the Reptars' strategy by surprising them with a conga line, but the Reptars stood their ground and won the match! A thrilling game from Soupbone to nuts.

Other scores from the world of sports:

5 30 93 9 17 and in an shocking upset, 12
